

STATUTES
OF THE GRAND COUNCIL OF
KNIGHT MASONS
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

ADOPTED FEBRUARY 18, 1967

Revision of 2008

PREAMBLE

The Order of Knight Masons was formed in Dublin, Ireland, on June 18, 1923, for the purpose of governing the degrees previously known as the "Green Degrees." These degrees were formerly controlled by the Orders of Knights Templar in Ireland (for more than eighty years) and conferred in their subordinate bodies. They were introduced in the United States on May 20, 1936, when the Grand Council in Ireland chartered three Councils in North Carolina. Subsequently, seven additional Councils were chartered by that Grand Council in the United States. The degrees are Knight of the Sword; Knight of the East; Knight of the East and West; and Installed Chief and are not to be confused with degrees which may have similar names in other Orders. (Revised 1997)

I – RIGHTS

The Grand Council of Knight Masons of the United States of America possesses the supreme authority over the Order in the United States of America, with the right to enact such laws as may be necessary to govern the Order; the powers to repeal or abrogate the same; to regulate and decide upon all matters pertaining to the Order; the right to warrant new Councils and to recall warrants issued; and to discipline its members.

Our Concordat prohibits us from chartering Councils in Canada, but Canadians may be members of Great Chief's Council. McCracken, 1982

Although Great Chief's Council is a holding unit for Knight Masons who have as yet no Council in their home states, there is no law requiring a demit from any Council upon affiliation with another. McCracken, 1982

McCracken, 1982

Councils may elect to honorary membership deserving and outstanding members of the Craft who are active members of other Councils of Knight Masons.
Stiles, 1983

A member of Great Chief's Council 0 who joined South Carolina Council 20 by regular initiation had, in effect, been a transfer since he petitioned, passed the ballot, and was initiated into the several Degrees and had purchased a Life Membership. The application of No. 20 required no information of previous petitioning, so what was done is legitimate.
Womack, 1985

Demits were issued to two members who were improperly suspended from a Council for non-payment of dues. The Excellent Chief and Scribe were reprimanded for the irregularities permitted in their membership changes.
Law, 1987

The interval between Annual Meetings may be considered as one year. It was therefore proper for a Council to withdraw an invitation to a candidate who had been elected at the previous Annual Meeting but had failed to present himself for the degrees.

Canadian and other non-USA members shall belong to Great Chief's Council No. 0.

Saunders, 1997

Rescinded the earlier decision and ordered that transfers of members to newly formed councils will be recorded as of the date of institution of the new council or such later date before the end of the year that the member requests a transfer. The new council will not be liable for a fee except for Dual Members.
Elkins, 2007

Annual Reports

Informed a Council that if their per-capita tax was not paid in full and the check cleared before the Annual Communication of the Grand Council, that their Annual Report would not be received, and I would lift their Charter prior to this Communication.
Bruner, 1993

The $10 per member fee may be paid annually with the Annual Reports due on January 31, 2008, 2009, and 2010. Each payment will be a multiple of $10, and be at least one-third of the total amount due.
Elkins, 2007

Jewelry and Insignia

Each Great Chief shall retain his apron when he retires from office.
Elliott, 1975

The ritual states that the new members are invested with the jewel on resumption of labor after the closing of the Degree of Knight of the East and West. Councils that do not give each new member this jewel should consider adopting this practice even if they have to raise the membership fee.
Ritual Committee, 1981

An Excellent Chief receives his PEC apron at his installation and the jewel when he goes out of office. i.e. If the Council provides an apron for a Chief to use and keep, it should be presented at his installation. Superintendents

A representative is to be appointed in each state where one or more councils are constituted or are under dispensation. His responsibility would be to inspect the administrative and ritualistic affairs of the council and annually report to the Grand Council. Fowler, 1988

The three-year trial having been completed, the Grand Council determined that the Superintendent program was unnecessary. Each Great Chief has the authority to appoint a superintendent in any state or area in which he needs representation. The appointment is at the will and pleasure of the Great Chief and will not exceed his term of office.

Bruner, 1993
